

Stephen G. Ulmer

Stephen is a sales executive with over 20 years of experience working for some of the world's leading information technology providers such as SAP, PeopleSoft/Oracle. He has focused on public sector and international public sector, as well as internal team building and public sector partnerships.

Stephen has worked with many international public-sector agencies in partnership to improve outcomes for constituents and has managed some of his companies' largest public-sector clients that have impacts on people all over the world, including agencies such as the United Nations, UNICEF, and the U.S. Department of State.

A resident of Annapolis, Stephen resides at King James Landing on Back Creek with his wife Frances. Both actively sail a 43-foot Beneteau called Pieces of Eight. Stephen has a strong connection to Back Creek and wants to preserve it for future generations.